

Job offer at the Institute for International Business, WU Vienna:

The IIB is currently inviting applications for a research project to be completed in the area of algorithmic trading. They are looking for Master Students with expertise in algorithmic trading and/or technical analysis to support a project concerned with the applicability of such trading methods in the cryptocurrency world. The project roughly runs for a period of 3 months and remuneration will be settled in the form of an independent contract agreement (Werkvertrag). The contract has a value of 2.000€, roughly translating into 15€/hour at 10 hours/week. Working time is flexible to some degree. For more information, visit <https://www.wu.ac.at/iib/research/cryptotrading/>.

Applications are welcome until June 29.
